Letter of Transmittal

Department of Agriculture

State of Florida.

To His Excellency, Millard Caldwell, Governor of the State of Florida:

Sir:

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 22515, Laws of Florida, Acts of the Legislature of 1945, requiring the taking of the census of the population of the State for the year of 1945, I have the honor to submit my report of the same.

The result of the census is contained in one volume, which in most part is given in tabular form, showing the general and steady growth of the State's population from 1830 to 1945. These tables show by race, sex and age periods the population of the counties, and other civil and political divisions, and the place of birth.

Respectfully submitted,

NATHAN MAYO

Commissioner of Agriculture.

Introductory Notes

In 1821 the Territory of Florida was organized into two counties, Escambia and St. Johns. Escambia County, formerly known as "West Florida," comprised the territory west of the Suwannee River, and St. Johns County, formerly known as "East Florida," included the rest of the territory of Florida. The first Census presented herein, is that taken by the United States Government in the year of 1830.

During that period (1821-1830) the two original counties had been divided and subdivided, making seventeen counties in the first Census. Beginning with this Census, which reported a total population of 34,730, representing two races (18,185 white and 16,345 negro), this report brings up the population development of the State, showing each succeeding Census taken by the United States Government, and those taken by the State where the records are available, to and including the 1945 State Census, which reports a total population of 2,249,925 persons living in sixty-seven counties, and representing five different races of people, White, Negro, Indian, Chinese and Japanese. (Many Indians lived in Florida at the time of the first Census, but the record of their population is not available.)

The White and Negro races, which comprises more than 99.9 per cent of the entire population, are very evenly distributed throughout the State.

The Censuses presented herein that were taken by the State are for the years 1885, 1895, 1905, 1915, 1925, 1935 and 1945. All others were taken by the United States Government. This report is called the "Seventh State Census," but it is true that the State has taken the Census population regularly at each ten-year period since, and including 1837, but the records for those taken prior to the year 1885 are not at this time available.

This report is presented in the most part in tabular form, and the tables are so arranged that with the explanatory notes, it is easy to find any information that may be desired, relating to the Census.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

NATHAN MAYO, Commissioner

SEVENTH CENSUS OF FLORIDA

SUGGESTIONS TO ENUMERATORS OF 1955 CENSUS

Before beginning the enumeration, get from the proper county officials a list of all precincts and incorporated places in your county, and see that their boundaries are clearly defined, and a map of the county if possible. Examine the Census of 1950, taken by the Federal Government, which we have sent you as a sort of guide to its population.

Every bonafide resident or inhabitant (and no others) should be listed. (See definition of inhabitant, farther on.) The information about each person must be legible and complete; that is, ages, occupation, birthplaces, etc., must not be omitted or marked unknown. Illegible reports cannot be paid for.

WHAT PERSONS TO BE ENUMERATED AND EXCLUDED

The census law requires the Commissioner of Agriculture to make an enumeration of "all the inhabitants of the several counties." An inhabitant is not necessarily a legal resident or voter, but at the same time every person who happens to be in the State at the time of the census is not regarded as an inhabitant. For the purpose of the census an inhabitant is defined as a person who dwells or resides permanently in a place; or one who has a fixed and permanent abode in a place, regardless of nationality or citizenship. Intention to reside continuously in a locality may sometimes determine the point. A bona-fide resident of the State is one who spends at least half of every year here, or has moved in recently with the intention of remaining.

Many families have one or more members who are away temporarily in other counties or states, traveling, visiting, attending school, or something of the kind, and inquiry should always be made for such absentees. STUDENTS ATTENDING SCHOOL ELSEWHERE, AND SONS IN THE ARMY OR NAVY, OR ON MERCHANT VESSELS, SHOULD ORDINARILY BE COUNTED AS RESIDING WITH THEIR PARENTS, even if they are away most of the year; but sons or daughters who have gone to another part of the State to earn their living should be enumerated at the boarding places in the communities where they work.

While the census is in progress there will, of course, be births, marriages, deaths, removals, etc., but the population should be represented as it was on date when census is taken.

Children born since then are not to be counted. If some member of the family has died or moved away between date when census began and the time you call, enter his name and the required information about him, and write (died) or (removed) after the name.

Persons away at school or elsewhere for a considerable period can be marked (Absent).

INSTITUTIONS

Several counties contain educational, charitable, penal, or military and naval institutions with a considerable number of students, patients, inmates, etc. living in dormitories or something of the kind, away from their relatives, and coming mostly from other counties than those in which they are located. ENUMERATORS ARE NOT EXPECTED TO ENTER SUCH INSTITUTIONS, EXCEPT TO LIST THE OFFICIALS IN CHARGE WITH THEIR FAMILIES, who are more or less permanent residents. The inmates are to be reported by their relatives elsewhere, and information about them will also be sought from the officials in charge by direct inquiry from this office. There are in the State a few federal military or naval reservations, not part of any precinct, and those need not be counted at all, for we will get information about them through other channels.

RACE AND AGE

Be sure to put every age in its proper column for race and sex, for failure to do so woulld cause serious errors in the tabulations. The age called for is that at the last birthday. In the case of infants less than a year old, write "O" in the age column.

NATIVITY

All foreign-born adults should be asked if they are naturalized citizens of the United States. If they are, write N after the name of the country, and if they are aliens who have taken no steps toward naturalization, write A.

Note that when a foreign-born man, or widow, becomes naturalized all his (or her) minor children living in the United States at the time can claim citizenship when they become of age, without any other effort on their part; but a wife does not acquire citizenship through the naturalization of her husband.

FURTHER SUGGESTIONS

The following facts were brought out in the 1945 State Census:

No County Enumerator can expect his pay until the work has been thoroughly examined. No ordinary office force can give a thorough examination of all reports in a few days. This would be possible if all deputies did good work and followed implicitly the instructions, and a superficial examination would suffice.

Due to the poor hand-writing of some of the enumerators much time was lost in checking their work. The County enumerator should go over all sheets before sending them in and re-copy those that are in bad order.

THE USE OF THE DITTO MARK HELPS VERY MUCH IN CHECKING, AND THE ENUMERATOR SHOULD BE INSTRUCTED TO USE SAME WHENEVER POSSIBLE. FAMILIES CAN BE CHECKED MUCH FASTER IF ONLY THE SURNAME OF THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY IS WRITTEN OUT IN FULL. THE SAME IS TRUE IN CHECKING THE RECORD BY STATES. FAMILIES SHOULD NOT BE DIVIDED ON ENUMERATION SHEETS.

Whenever a town or village is incorporated the census for such should be clearly marked, and no names outside the corporate limits included.

There were numerous complaints made by the Deputy Enumerators on account of the pay they received from the County Enumerators, for their work. This office was advised in many instances that the pay was too low to be considered reasonable, so we suggest that the law providing for the next State Census, state the amount the County Enumerators shall pay their Deputy Enumerators.

The law providing for taking the 1945 State Census provided that an Enumerator should be paid 3½ cents per person enumerated in Cities of 5000 inhabitants or more, and 10 cts. per person for all others enumerated. This section of the law should be changed, and Cities and Towns ranging from 1000 to 5000 should fall in a middle rate between the other too.

BUREAU OF THE CENSUS, WASHINGTON

FLORIDA: Final Population.
Sixteenth Census of the United States: 1940
POPULATION OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA—FINAL FIGURES: 1940

Between 1830 and 1940 Florida's urban places continued to grow faster than the rural areas, according to the final figures from the Sixteenth Decennial Census, issued today by Director William Lane Austin, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. In this period, however, the urban population grew more slowly than at any time since 1850.

The final count of the Sixteenth Census showed that on April 1, 1940, Florida had a population of 1,897,414, an increase of 429,203 over the 1,468,211 residents reported in the 1930 Census. This change represents an increase of 29.2 percent as compared with 51.6 percent between 1920 and 1930. The population increase in urban areas from 1930 to 1940 was 37.6 percent as compared with 20.2 percent in the rural sections. Urban residents accounted for 55.1 percent of the State's population in 1940, as compared with 51.7 percent in 1930. In 1940, residents of urban areas numbered 1,045,791, while the rural population amounted to 851,623. The Census Bureau considers as urban areas the incorporated places of 2,500 or more. The remaining territory is classified as rural.

There were 20 cities of 10,000 or more in Florida, 6 (Clearwater, Fort Lauderdale, Fort Myers, Miami Beach, Panama City and Sarasota,) having reached this size since 1930. All but one (St. Augustine) of these cities increased between 1930 and 1940, Miami Beach having had the most rapid growth (331.4 percent).

Fifty-three of the 67 counties gained population between 1930 and 1940, Gulf County, with an increase of 118.4 percent, had the most extensive growth.

The first census of Florida was taken in 1830, returning a population of 34,730. The population has shown an increase at every census since that time, passing 500,000 between 1890 and 1900, 1,000,000 between 1920 and 1930, and 1,500,000 during the past decade. The present population represents a density of 35.0 inhabitants per square mile. Florida's total land area is 54,262 square miles.

Table 1 presents the figures for counties and for cities of 10,000 or more and Table 2 for incorporated places of less than 10,000. Table 3 shows the population of Jacksonville by wards. Miami and Tampa, the other cities of 100,000 or more, were not reported by wards.

Similar announcements of final population figures for other States are being made as the figures become available.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

BUREAU OF THE CENSUS

WASHINGTON

FLORIDA: Population by Minor Civil Divisions.

Sixteenth Census of the United States: 1940

POPULATION OF THE COUNTIES IN FLORIDA BY MINOR CIVIL DIVISIONS: 1940.

Acting Director Vergil D. Reed, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, announced the population of the counties in the State of Florida by election precincts, these being the primary subdivisions into which the counties of Florida are divided.

This release is supplementary to the release of January 9, 1941 (Series P-2, No. 34), which gave the population of the counties and also the population of the incorporated places (cities, towns, and villages) and the population of Jacksonville by wards. Since each of the incorporated places shown in the earlier release is located in one or more of the election precincts, the population of these places is included in the precinct figures presented below.

These two releases taken together present the final 1940 population figures for all of the political subdivisions of the State of Florida except the city wards in the smaller cities. Similar statements for other States will be issued as fast as the material can be prepared for release.
